

Okhela Gampu

Operations Coordinator, Zeitz MOCAA

Okhela Gampu was born in Queenstown, South Africa and is currently living and working in Cape Town, South Africa. Gampu is the Operations Coordinator at Zeitz MOCAA.

As the Operations Coordinator at Zeitz MOCAA, Gampu organises and synchronises the activities of management and departments within the museum, ensuring that the schedules, meetings and goals of each department work in harmony.

Gampu studied Building Science at the Cape Peninsula University of Technology in Cape Town.

After graduation, she worked for a quantity surveying firm in Cape Town before moving to Johannesburg and proceeded to work in a fast-upscale environment, assuring client delight on projects such as the Gautrain – Africa's first rapid rail system. Gampu worked for 10 years in the construction industry in South Africa. Thereafter, Gampu's curiosity and interests in different nationalities and cultures grew to greater heights. She proceeded to work and live in Dubai, UAE as a quantity surveyor before realising her need to be in a more creative space, because of her passion for art, education and communities.
